Online Safety - Making The Right Choice

Children and young adults are over-sharing daily through direct messaging, picture messaging, social media, gaming and technology. Children and Young adults can become intentional victims of exploitation by behaving illegally or inappropriately, however with the evolutional of technology and connectivity they can become unintentional victims through lack of awareness and education. Due to the children and young adults experiencing far more time on devices, and with the inevitable increase in children and young adults being allowed or having more time on Social Media, Apps and Gaming, online dangers and possible harm has increased, which has resulted in a worldwide increase in online child exploitation. Parents need to be aware of the possible consequences. If children and young adults are old enough to be given or use an internet enable devices for social media or gaming, then they are old enough to be taught 'Making the Right Choice' can be crucial.
